

Brent Emore

Chief Executive Officer

Brent Emore is Chief Executive Officer of AHF Products, leading the company with a clear focus on innovation, performance, and customer partnership. With over two decades of leadership experience in the flooring and building products industries, Emore brings deep expertise in financial transformation, strategic growth, and operational execution. Prior to AHF, he held several senior leadership roles at Mohawk Industries, including CFO of the Flooring North America Segment and General Manager of multiple business units. His leadership has consistently aligned financial strategy with business goals, enabling agility, growth, and market leadership.

Under Emore's direction, AHF continues to build on its century-long legacy with a talented workforce and skilled leadership team. He is energized by the company's approach to the market—its agility, innovation in hard surface flooring, commitment to U.S. manufacturing, and strong customer focus. The company's strategy emphasizes nimble execution, product development, and both organic and acquisition-driven growth.

Emore holds a BSBA in Accounting and Management Information Systems from Miami University (Ohio), an MBA from Emory University, and is a licensed CPA.