

Karen Bradley

Chief HR Officer

Karen Bradley is the Senior Vice President of Human Resources at AHF Products and one of the company's original senior leaders. With a career marked by both creativity and strategic focus, she has built a scalable HR framework that supports AHF's growth while preserving its core values and culture.

Bradley brings a wealth of HR leadership experience from roles in manufacturing, high-tech, and professional services, including responsibilities spanning talent strategy, change management, labor relations, and M&A integration. Her influence has been instrumental in navigating four major business acquisitions at AHF. Bradley holds a BS in Business Administration with a focus in Human Resource Management from Shippensburg University.