

Timothy Nieman

General Counsel

Tim Nieman is General Counsel at AHF Products, with over 30 years of legal experience in both private practice and corporate law. Prior to joining AHF, his career included a wide range of experience from advocacy before the Supreme Court of the United States to leadership as General Counsel for a publicly traded financial services company. At AHF, Nieman has led the legal function on transformative M&A transactions and strategic real estate transactions, as well as handling day-to-day legal issues.

A respected legal educator and community leader, Nieman previously served as president of the Central Pennsylvania chapter of the Association of Corporate Counsel and teaches at Penn State Dickinson Law. He earned his law degree from the University of Virginia School of Law and is known for his sharp legal insight and practical business approach.